FOREIGN NEWS.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—The Boulanger and conservative journals charge the government with preparing a coupe d'etat to be carried out on the occasion of the demonstration at the grave of Revolutionist Baudin in December. They allege that the government agents will mingle with the people in the cemetery on that day and provoke a conflict. The leaders in the demonstration then will be arrested on trumped-up charges of having been engaged in plotting against the state and afterwards prosecuted for treason.

A DISASTROUS FIRE.

The Mammoth Shop of the Jenney Electric Light Company Go Up in Smoke—The Loss, Insurance and the Future Plans of the Company.

What were yesterday the great and growing Jenney electric works are to-day smouldering ruins. Shattered walls, crumbled machinery and here and there a projecting wing mark the site of the industry that sent its agencies all over the American continent, contesting for business every inch of the ground from Maine to California, from New York harbor to the Gulf of Mexico.

This mammoth institution is wiped out in a night, leveled, obliterated and wrecked, so that nothing remains but the energy and individuality of its projectors and the fruits of their triumphs abroad.

Some time before 1 o'clock last night a fire started on the second floor in the north-west corner of the main or old building. This part is used as a paint room and some carpenter work is done there, so that the flames found the best of fuel to feed on. In a minute or two the light flashed against the windows and spread out in a manner to alarm Officer John Tremmel, James Butler, who lives near the works, and Isaac Johnson, the night watchman. His statement is substantially this: "About fifteen minutes to 1 o'clock I made the rounds of the building and found everything regular. I repaired to the ground floor of the main shop and began eating my mid-night lunch. Rather soon, possibly in ten or fifteen minutes, I heard a sort of rumbling or cracking sound as if lighting matches and hurried to the upper floor only to see the blaze as you know."

Just here the watchman seems to have lost his head. Some assert that he attempted to smother the fire with his own hands before sending in an alarm. Mr. Butler, who lives close by, says that about that time he hurried out of bed, ran around the works yelling "fire" but he failed to discover the watchman. All this time the fire was growing into great volumes, and some two or three alarms were sent in. The night watchman says the telephone would not work and attributes his delay in giving a general alarm of fire to so many circumstances that his story is all clouded.

When the department arrived at the scene the main building was in flames and beyond saving. The fire ran through the structure like a flash and when its fangs reached favored food the flames belched out with renewed force. Windows crumbled, the roof rolled up and fell off, and the raging, seething elements swept on with cyclonic swiftness until the structure resembled a great fire pot fed from below by some hidden force.

On this picture the firemen played, throwing one, two, three and four streams of water as the force would permit. The hose were stretched across the tracks of the Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne road, blockading it for three hours.

But the fire raged madly on unmindful of the water and it seemed as though it would never lose its force. Now the northwest corner toppled over, then the top of the north wall and here and there huge chunks of brick fell out, leaving spire like projections to divide the blaze and give it even more fierceness.

There was scarcely no wind, and happily so, for it must seriously menace the surrounding houses. As it was the huge sparks set the roofs on fire, but a friendly splash from the hosemen would quench each recurring blaze.

Still the fire swept on eating its way from one room to another until it encompassed the entire plant and it was good daylight when the flames spent their fury and climbed, circled and writhed about the parched walls in their mad chase for further food. Doomed from the start, destruction was now complete and the scene lost its weird charms for the hundreds of people whom the shrill alarm of the fire bell summoned from their homes.

The buildings, all of them, are burned beyond repair. The destruction is complete—the loss entire.

By a little strategy, the private office, projecting out towards Broadway, was saved from complete ruin and this happily preserves the papers, books and valuable records of the company, enabling them at least to keep track of their extensive business abroad. These constitute the trophies of a losing battle and are about all the company have left of their Fort Wayne plant.

THE LOSS AND INSURANCE.

The loss of the Jenney company is estimated all the way from $200,000 to $300,000, with an insurance of only $148,000, all it could get, and some of that was placed but recently.

"Our loss, said Mr. P. A. Randall, one of the stockholders, 'is vastly more than the insurance. Our invoice shows that. When you take into consideration the expensive machinery we employ and the costly nature of our stock, not to mention our loss of business, you can form an idea of our total loss.'"

THE EMPLOYEES AND PAY ROLL.

The Jenney company employed almost 300 persons, 80 of whom are women. "Our pay roll," said Mr. Charles B. Fitch, the assistant manager of the works, "amounted to from $12,000 to $15,000 a month. At present the pay roll amounted to more than that sum for our increased demands have just forced us to a thirteen hour schedule and the employees labored until 10 o'clock each night."

On this topic Mr. P. A. Randall has some important figures. Said he, "The Jenney company was doing a business of two million dollars a year. We have orders enough on hand to run the works night and day for six months without touching another contract. In our shop last night we had $100,000 worth of finished work, and this is our severest loss. We have two hundred and fifty electric light plants to supply outside of Fort Wayne. Our New York plant promises us a phenomenal income and only the other day Mr. McDonald contracted to light a new hotel at San Francisco. We employ in our Fort Wayne shops three hundred people, but when you take our agents and representatives on the road, and the fact that J. H. Bass and Louis Rastetter have gangs of men always on our work, you can safely say that four hundred people are dependent on the Jenney company for employment. But back of all this is a fortunate circumstance. Two weeks ago we only had an insurance of $25,000. In the past few days the insurance was increased to $148,000, and it helps us out now."

MR. McDONALD HEARD FROM.

This morning Mr. R. T. McDonald replied to the telegrams of last night, informing him of the fire. He left New York City to-day on the limited express and will arrive home to-morrow morning at 5 o'clock.

He also wired his representatives here to proceed at once to Plymouth and equip the shops there for operation and the company will make that their headquarters pending a solution of the Fort Wayne problem.

WILL THEY REBUILD?

The question is asked of everybody and none can answer it. Mr. McDonald has telegraphed machine men to meet him here this week and in the consultation then the matter will be decided.

Mr. P. A. Randall said: "I cannot say what we will do about rebuilding. Our engine and boiler are intact, having escaped the fire. Our property is here, the foundation of the works is as good as ever and most of the brick can be used. These, of course, are inducements to rebuild, but I cannot say what will be done until Mr. McDonald arrives home. Judge Taylor, who is our counsel, says he does not think the shops here will be rebuilt."

Back of all this lurks the influence of the Thompson-Houston company.

THE COMPANY AND ITS RESOURCES.

The Jenney Electric Light company was organized in 1881, on what was known as the C. J. Jenney patents. The transactions that year were purely experimental. In 1882, they were unimportant, but in 1883, active operations began, and from that time dates the success of the company. Their quarters on Superior street grew too small for the business, and the company acquired what was known as the Gausemower works at the junction of Broadway and the Fort Wayne road. They added to the building from year to year, and even the past summer built a coal and coke room, and a carpenter and pattern department that they expected to occupy next week. This was their plant and it was not sufficient for the requirements of the company, which have assumed mammoth proportions.

The capital stock of the company is $500,000, divided between John H. Bass, R. T. McDonald, H. G. Olds, P. A. Randall and M. W. Simons. Mr. McDonald is general manager and to him, all concede, is due entirely, the power, prestige and greatness of the Fort Wayne Jenney Electric light company. The cloud that shadowed its patents were lifted some months ago by Judge Walter Q. Gresham in his decision against the Brush company. This gave the Jenney company unquestioned standing in the business world, and increased the value of the property beyond the hopes of the stockholders.

It led to a consolidation of the Fort Wayne Jenney company and the Thompson-Houston company, of Lynn, Mass. The last named company, it is said, acquired a controlling interest in the Fort Wayne plant and it was estimated at the time of the deal, some five months ago, that a few of the local stockholders realized something like $100,000 each on their electric light investment. On this question of consolidation the officers of the company are silent, asserting in reply to all enquiries, that it is no one's affair but their own.

THE WATER SUPPLY FAILURE.

As is usual in such cases, the water supply failed several times during the fire this morning and this fact in a great measure crippled the firemen and rendered their battle hopeless. The fire, of course, was a great distance from the pumping house and the force could not be stronger with the present machinery. No one is to blame for this state of affairs but the city. Its pumping apparatus is notoriously insufficient and this condition of things stares every citizen in the face.

A GENERAL STRIKE.

Is Threatened by the Switchmen of all the Trunk Lines if Their Grievances are Not Settled.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Information is received from a very authoritative source that the switchmen on all the trunk lines from Mississippi to New York have united in a demand upon the roads for an increase of pay and the settlement of other grievances. The officers have been given until Saturday to respond to the request of the switchmen and that if their requests are not granted or a compromise cannot be reached a general strike is threatened.

IT IS DENIED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The published statement to the effect that the switchmen on the trunk lines east of the Mississippi threaten to strike unless their wages are raised finds no confirmation in railroad offices here.

THE OHIO WHITE CAPS.

Their Brutality Causes a Victim to Become a Raving Maniac.

WINCHESTER, Ohio, Nov. 23.—Adam Berkes, of Sardinia, who was flogged by masked men Thursday night upon a charge that he had been stealing, has become a raving maniac. Advice from that vicinity indicate that the flogging was done by a secretly organized body of men and it is next to impossible to convict any of them.

SWEEPED BY FIRE.

The Business Portion of a Maryland Town Destroyed.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 23.—A special from Pocomoke City, Md., says: "A fire broke out here, yesterday afternoon, in the drug store of D. O. J. Trust, in the business part of town, and from the first it was a hopeless case. The entire business portion of the town is gone except two stores. The estimated loss is $500,000, partially covered by insurance."

Leaves the G. A. R.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 23.—General J. M. Palmer, the late democratic candidate for governor, has asked for and received an honorable discharge from the G. A. R. His withdrawal is based on an alleged violation of the constitution and the ritual in perverting the order to political purposes.

Natural Gas.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—The breaking of a natural gas main at Murfreesville, Pa., this morning, caused a total suspension of work in the mills and factories on the south side of this city. There is sufficient gas however to supply private dwellings.

A License Bill.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 23.—The house this morning refused the Pitkin liquor license bill a third reading by a vote of 149 to 58.

POWDERLY WINS.

He is Re-elected Chief of the Knights of Labor by a Decisive Majority.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 23.—The election of officers took up the time to-day of the Knights of Labor Assembly. Daniel J. Campbell, of Scranton, Pa., nominated T. V. Powderly for re-election. Victor Drury, District Assembly No. 49, placed the name of Martin Hanley, of New Jersey, before the convention, and an ex-delegate, named Birch, from Ohio was also named. The result was Powderly 114; Hanley 27; Birch 1.

For general worthy foreman, Morris L. Wheat, of Iowa, and Henry A. Beckmeyer, of New Jersey, were nominated. The vote stood, Wheat 83; Beckmeyer 56. For candidates for general secretary and treasurer, three names were presented; that of Frederick Turner, of Philadelphia, the present treasurer; Mr. Powderly took the floor and nominated John W. Hayes, of New Jersey, the present secretary; Mrs. A. P. Stevens, of Toledo, Ohio, was also named. Before the vote was taken a motion for a recess for dinner was carried.

SWITCHMEN'S STRIKE.

All the Men of the Indianapolis Yards Go Out—Other Employees May Follow.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 23.—The threatened strike of the switchmen employed by the several railroad lines centering here took place at a late hour last night, the Belt road employees joining the switchmen and thus stopping completely the handling of freight. Just before leaving the yards, the switchmen secured four engines, and attaching them to the loaded and empty cars in yards brought them out upon the main track and then left them quietly and went to their homes. The main track of the Belt line is therefore blocked with cars, as are also the several yards.

It was late last evening before the superintendents finally refused the demand for increased wages and reduction in hours of work, and the strike followed as soon as all the men could receive notice of the result. It is believed that the strike will spread to other employees, as the switchmen have the sympathy of all classes of men in the railroad service here, and are known to be paid less and to work a greater number of hours than their fellows in other cities.

About midnight they forced three engineers to pull their fires and the fourth, James Maloney, who refused, was hit on the head with a hammer and kicked by a number of men.

GROWING SERIOUS.

The strike of the railroad switchmen is taking an ugly phase. Not a single switch engine in the city moved this morning. In the freight yard everything is confusion. This morning the trains were abandoned, half made up or not made up at all, except in the Monon and Lake Erie and Western yards. The men, however, declared that not an engine should be fired this morning.

In all the yards business is at a complete standstill. In several places the engineers and firemen or other employees tried to go on with the work, but the strikers interfered and succeeded and fully prevented the departure of trains. Only one instance of positive violence was reported during the night. The engineers and firemen are in close sympathy with the switchmen. In nearly every instance they have quit work, run their engines into their respective stalls, and drew fires when the switchmen requested it.

TWO ENGINES MEET!

And a Bad Wreck Follows, in Which an Engineer and Brakeman Meet Death.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—Two freight trains on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road collided at Hammondsville this morning. Both engines and a number of loaded cars were demolished. One engineer, named Whitacre, had his leg crushed. The engineer on the other train, named Dolphin, and brakeman, named Slaven, are missing, and are supposed to be in the wreck.

LATER.

Engineer T. Dolphin, of Wellsville, Ohio, and Brakeman Slaven, of Ravenna, Ohio, were caught in the wreck and killed. Conductor George Ryse and Engineer C. R. Whitacre were seriously, but not fatally injured. The accident was caused by the crew of the extra disobeying orders. The loss is heavy.

A YOUTHFUL FORGER.

Is Arrested at London, England. Whither he Had Fled With His Sweetheart and Stolen Money.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 23.—The arrest yesterday in London, England, of Charles Tinkler, the youthful bank forger, was made through information given by him in a letter to Wm. Hopkins of this city, one of his companions. It told the address of his tailor in London. Through the request of Gov. Foraker, to Secretary Bayard, the American minister in London, was asked to secure Tinkler's arrest and it was done. Tinkler is not yet twenty-one years of age. He was collector for the Bodman tobacco house and September last forged three checks of $5,000 each, presented them at the bank and obtained the money and left saying he was going to follow book-making at the races. The forgery was not discovered until the checks were returned about Nov. 1. A young German girl, named Meier, went with Tinkler. It is said that a sister of hers died of grief a few days ago and Tinkler's mother is insane from grief over the downfall of her son.

Martyrs to Headache

Seek relief in vain, until they begin to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Then they regret the years of suffering they might have escaped had they tried this remedy earlier. The trouble was constitutional not local; and, until Ayer's Sarsaparilla did its effective work as an Alterative and Blood Purifier, they were compelled to suffer.

The wife of Samuel Page, 21 Austin st., Lowell, Mass., was, for a long time, subject to severe headaches, the result of stomach and liver disorders. A perfect cure has been effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frank Roberts, 727 Washington st., Boston, says that he formerly had terrible headaches, and until he took Ayer's Sarsaparilla, never found any medicine that would give him relief.

Permanent Relief.

"Every Spring, for years," writes Lizzie W. DeVane, 202 Fifth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., "I have had intolerable headaches. I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla last March, and have not had a headache since that time."

"I suffered from headache, indigestion, and dizziness, and was hardly able to drag myself about the house," writes Mrs. M. M. Lewis, of A. St., Lowell, Mass. "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has worked a marvelous change in my case. I now feel strong and well as ever."

Jonas Garman, Esq., of Lykens, Pa., writes: "For years I have suffered dreadfully, every Spring, from headache, caused by impurity of the blood and biliousness. It occurred for days and weeks that my head would split open. Nothing relieved me till I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has cured me completely."

When Mrs. Genevra Belanger, of 24 Bridge st., Springfield, Mass., began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, she had suffered for some years from a serious affection of the kidneys. Every Spring, also, she was afflicted with headache, loss of appetite, and indigestion. A friend persuaded her to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which benefited her wonderfully. Her health is now perfect. Martyrs to headache should try.

FRIDAY, NOV. 23, 1888.

The emperor of Austria is infatuated with the American game of draw poker.

Hon. FRED. DOUGLASS addressed the American Woman's Suffrage convention last night. The convention has been in session at Cincinnati this week.

It is announced that it is not probable that Mr. Blaine will, through his friends, oppose favorable action on the part of the senate with regard to the appointment of Perry Belmont to be minister to Spain, when it comes up for confirmation.

A large number of increased pensions have been granted lately to Northern Indians—about 1,000 in the last ten days. Now, that the election is over, this activity in the pension office cannot be charged by the republicans as an electioneering effort.

One of the letters received by General Harrison the other day was from a man in Ohio. He wanted a postoffice and his request was that it be either in Maine or Massachusetts wherever it suited the General best, "so that it pays from $400 to $1,000 a year."

THERE have been more candidates named so far for the position of government printer than of any other place the new administration will have at its disposal. Among the latest named are Congressman Gallinger, of New Hampshire; W. R. Holloway, of Indiana, and Mr. Clarkson, of Iowa. Gallinger and Clarkson have also been mentioned in connection with cabinet positions.

Mr. E. W. HALLFORD, the new private secretary of President-elect Harrison, will enjoy a great responsibility and a salary of $3,250 per year. In the executive department under him will be one assistant at $2,250 per year, two clerks at $2,000 each, two clerks at $1,800 each, two clerks at $1,600 each, two clerks at $1,400 each, one clerk at $1,200, a steward at $1,800, an usher at $1,400, nine ushers, doorkeepers, and messengers at $1,200 each, a watchman at $900, and a fireman at $864. He will be at the head of a force of twenty-four men, having directly to do with the chief of his nation.

The eastern roads running into Chicago are still kicking about the Car Service association for the reason that it is likely to interfere with the grain trade of Chicago. Shippers have heretofore been allowed the privilege of leaving their cars on the track until the grain was sold. There would be no complaint now but for the fact that Peoria and other junction points which do not charge demurrage are securing an undue proportion of the business which ought to come to Chicago. The grain shipments of the eastern roads have fallen off materially since the roads began to charge demurrage, and there has been a corresponding increase in the consignments to Peoria. The Chicago grain receivers are, for the reasons stated, anxious to have the car service agreement abolished or at least so much of it as pertains to grain shippers.

The Fort Wayne Judge Will Get Nothing From Gen. Harrison.

The Indianapolis Sentinel says: "There is one aspirant for a big office under Harrison who will get left," said a well-known republican to a Sentinel reporter yesterday.

"Who is that one man?" asked the reporter.

"That man is Judge R. S. Taylor, of Fort Wayne. He was always a strong Harrison man, but anxious to be on the winning side he telegraphed to Chicago on Saturday preceding the nomination of Harrison that it was time to drop Harrison and take up Gresham. There are seven of these telegrams in the hands of a republican who will be near the throne. I tell you, Taylor's goose is cooked."

August Becker, while loading a wagon in the Bloomingdale gravel pit Wednesday, met with a narrow escape from death. One of the banks of the gravel pit gave away, and falling upon him buried him beneath its mass of sand. His fellow workmen, attracted by his cries, rushed to his assistance at once and he was soon rescued, but not before he had suffered considerable injuries. He was taken to his home and will be laid up for several days.

The first term of School of Music conducted by Misses Anderson and Large closes November 20. The second term begins on Wednesday, November 21.

This morning Mr. A. A. Purman, local attorney for New York, Mahoning & Western road, appeared before Auditor Neizar and paid over the $500 put up to guarantee the payment of the expenses of the election to vote aid to the road. The money will go into the Wayne township treasury and the election has not cost us a cent.

The road and shops are coming here too.

Injured by an Explosion.

An explosion occurred at the Jenney Electric Light works yesterday morning, by which two employees were quite severely injured. C. J. Lapp and Fred Kelker were employed in the brass moulding room pouring molten brass from a vessel, when it exploded and scattered the metal about the room.

Large portions of it were thrown upon Lapp and Kelker, and the former was badly injured about the face and eyes, while the latter suffered injuries to his legs and arms. Their clothing caught fire, and was extinguished by the workmen who came to their rescue.

Mr. Lapp lives at 102 Butler street, and Mr. Kelker on Lavina street. Lapp's injuries are the more severe of the two, and a doctor is in attendance at his bedside. Large particles of the metal entered his eyes, but it is thought he will not lose his sight.

The Golden Gate special.

The Union and Central Pacific roads, and Pullman company, put on, December 5, a weekly train of Pullman Vestibule Cars to run between Council Bluffs and San Francisco. Steam heat, electric light, separate bath rooms for ladies and gentlemen, barber shop, observation and smoking rooms, and a female attendant for ladies and children make it "The finest train in the world."

DEFIANCE, Nov. 23.—Edward Swihart a young man who recently arrived in this city from Van Wert, and was employed in Dicus' coeyer shop, attempted suicide yesterday by taking chloroform. He was unconscious for five hours, before pronounced out of danger. No reason has been assigned as yet for his act.

A Dozen Want It.

BRYAN, Nov. 23.—At the present time there are a dozen applicants for the postoffice at this place. Boothman's friends each expect the plum, and he will be worried considerably before a choice is made, and more afterward.

"We have met the enemy and they are ours," said Commodore Perry, thus telling the story of the battle of Lake Erie. And it is also a fact that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is no sooner used than the cold is conquered and the cough disappears.

The Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad are putting up post along its lines indicating the townships and counties through which it passes.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

A POKER-PLAYER'S GOOD LUCK.

Bad Hart, as he was called by his friends, used to be one of the boys when Birmingham, Ala., was called the Leadville of the South. Bad was always hard-up, and found it no easy matter to keep himself staked.

One night while in a card-room, dead broke, Hart was approached by a stranger, who said to him:

"There will be a fellow up here to-night with $300 or $400 in his pocket, and I am going to do my best to get the money. I want you to drop in to keep the game going. Here's $10 to start with, and I'll see that you are kept staked."

In a little while "the fellow with the $300 or $400" came in, and Hart at once made his acquaintance.

The second stranger said to Hart in an undertone:

"The fellow I'm going to play with has several hundred dollars which I am after, and I will keep you staked if you will play with us."

The three-handed game was soon under way, and the two strangers played for each other for all they were worth. Hart always went out when they both stayed in.

Each of the strangers, when they played against Hart, allowed him to win the pot without showing their hands. This thing kept up all night, Hart keeping his pile of money out of sight. Seven o'clock next morning both of the strangers were nearly broke and stopped playing. Hart had nearly $1,000 in his pockets. A long time afterwards he told the story.—Atlanta Journal.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla acts directly and promptly, purifying and enriching the blood, improving the appetite, strengthening the nerves, and invigorating the system. It is, in the truest sense, an alternative medicine. Every invalid should give it a trial.

HEARING AND OVERHEARING.

Smith—Pretty good thing I overheard to-day. I must tell it to you.

Jones—Let's see. You overheard it?

S.—Didn't I say so?

J.—You did. But I want to be sure.

If you simply heard it, I don't care to hear it, but if you overheard it—

S.—I overheard it.

J.—Then peg away, my boy, and give us the whole thing. I expect it's something rich.—Boston Courier.

WE TOLD YOU SO.

Ever the ink of THE SENTINEL press was fairly dry the snow of Kansas, was the snow of Fort Wayne, Ind. We told you through the Journal of a part of the cold weather goods.

Have you read it? Better do so. When you visit our store you will be surprised at the vast amount of cold weather supplies. Yet, why should you be? We supply a larger territory than most of stores and must have the goods in stock.

Of storm underwear, of blankets and of comfortables we have told you.

Now then of two extremes. Your hands and your feet. Neglect their protection, (you have heard much of protection lately) and you suffer, sure.

Name any kind, color, or quality of gloves or stockings you want, we will furnish them. Or, do you want yarns? Have you in your household a dear old grandmother whose fingers and mind want to be kept employed for the children. We handle just the yarns in which she will take great delight in knitting. Then think of the knit goods. First come Fascinators. White, Black and in colors, differing in lengths and qualities. We furnish these at 50c, 75c and $1.00 each. Then Toboggans. Every girl of the family wants one of these useful articles, colors of all names, qualities in any grade you may feel like paying for.

We remember the boys in this line also and for them offer a line of Jockey Caps in large variety and ranging in price from 50c to $1.00.

For misses wear we offer a new head wear, "Alpine Hat," these you must see to appreciate, they cost $1.00 each.

You never saw before in one mass so many knit hoods. Baby hoods, Children's hoods, Misses hoods, Women's hoods, all colors, all grades, and all values.

We are mentioning winter goods, and must not forget knit skirts, these in white and colored, hand made and all wool, a necessity for you, 62c, 90c, $1.25 to $1.75.

Then scarfs, no use in having sore throats, or frozen ears, we supply you with these from 10c each and up to $1.00 each.

Flannel shirt waists also, these in reliable non fading colorings and at $1.50 and $1.75 each.

Its out of the question however for us to tell you of all in any one of our valuable papers, you have learned of enough to want to see for yourself. For most of these you will go to our former cloak room, entrance from the center of main store on north side.

ROOT & COMPANY.

Now For THE Christmas Trade!

Of late years the very sensible fashion has prevailed of choosing something useful for wedding and holiday gifts.

Of all good places in Fort Wayne to find elegant and acceptable presents of this kind, Foster's Furniture Store stands at the head.

During the past two weeks they have been placing on sale an immense line of useful and high art ornamental articles, specially designed for the holiday trade.

Make your selections now, while the stock is full, and have them laid aside and delivered Christmas.

Court street has become such a furniture center that you are reminded that our chief entrance is next door to the postoffice. Our friends, occasionally, are absent-minded enough to blunder into the excellent establishment of our very good friends next door.

Last night H. O. Chamberlain, a boot and shoe salesman, who is registered at the Wayne, was out on a lark and this morning at 5:30 o'clock Officer Lee found him yelling "stop thief" at the White Elephant saloon West Main street. He insisted that some one had stolen his watch and chain.

Officer Lee arrested Carry but found no tucker. Thus the matter stands.

COL. R. S. ROBERTSON.
He Cannot Recover Damages From His Old Adversary, Green Smith.

The Indianapolis Journal says: The suit of Lieutenant Governor Robertson against Green Smith and the sureties upon his appeal bond for damages for the expenses incurred by him in litigation attending Smith's bulldozing methods in the last legislature, came up before Judge Taylor, yesterday, on a demurrer. In their answer to the complaint, Smith and his sureties held that Colonel Robertson could not recover, because the supreme court had decided that the proceedings in the circuit court, whereby Smith enjoined Robertson from presiding over the state senate, were null and void. Colonel Robertson demurred to the answer. The judge now overrules the demurrer, and holds the answer good. He maintains that, as the circuit court had no jurisdiction over Robertson, a bond from Smith accepted by the court was invalid, hence Colonel Robertson can not recover damages on the bond. What further steps in the case will be taken is not known.

FOREIGN NEWS.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—The Boulanger and conservative journals charge the government with preparing a coupe d'etat to be carried out on the occasion of the demonstration at the grave of Rev.olutionist Daudin in December. They allege that the government agents will mingle with the people in the cemetery on that day and provoke a conflict. The leaders in the demonstration then will be arrested on trumped-up charges of having been engaged in plotting against the state and afterwards prosecuted for treason.

A DISASTROUS FIRE.

The Mammoth Shops of the Jenney
Electric Light Company Go Up
in Smoke—The Loss, Insurance and the Future
Plans of the Company.

What were yesterday the great and growing Jenney electric works are to-day smoldering ruins. Shattered walls, crumbled machinery and here and there a projecting wing mark the site of the industry that sent its agencies all over the American continent, contesting for business every inch of the ground from Maine to California, from New York harbor to the Gulf of Mexico.

This mammoth institution is wiped out in a night, leveled, obliterated and wrecked, so that nothing remains but the energy and individuality of its projectors and the fruits of their triumphs abroad.

Some time before 1 o'clock last night
a fire started on the second floor in the north-west corner of the main or old building. This part is used as a paint room and some carpenter work is done
there, so that the flames found the best of fuel to feed on. In a minute or two the light flashed against the windows and spread out in a manner to alarm Officer John Tremmel, James Butler, who lives near the works, and Isaac Johnson, the night watchman. His statement is substantially this: "About fifteen minutes to 1 o'clock I made the rounds of the building and found everything regular. I repaired to the ground floor of the main shop and began eating my midnight lunch. Rather soon, possibly in ten or fifteen minutes, I heard a sort of rumbling or cracking sound as if lighting matches and hurried to the upper floor only to see the blaze as you know."

Just here the watchman seems to have lost his head. Some assert that he attempted to smother the fire with his own hands before sending in an alarm.
Mr. Butler, who lives close by, says that about that time he hurried out of bed, ran around the works yelling "fire" but he failed to discover the watchman.
All this time the fire was growing into great volume, and some two or three alarms were sent in. The night watchman says the telephone would not work and attributes his delay in giving a general alarm of fire to so many circumstances that his story is all clouded.

When the department arrived at the scene the main building was in flames and beyond saving. The fire ran through the structure like a flash and when its fangs reached favored food the flames belched out with renewed force.
Windows crumbled, the roof rolled up and fell off, and the raging, seething elements swept on with cyclonic swiftness until the structure resembled a great fire pot fed from below by some hidden force.

On this picture the firemen played,
throwing one, two, three and four streams of water as the force would permit. The hose were stretched across the tracks of the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne road, blocking it for three hours.

But the fire raged madly on unmindful of the water and it seemed as though it would never lose its force. Now the northwest corner toppled over, then the top of the north wall and here and there huge chunks of brick fell out, leaving spire like projections to divide the blaze
and give it even more fierceness.

There was scarcely no wind, and happily so, for it must seriously menace the surrounding houses. As it was the huge sparks set the roofs on fire, but a friendly splash from the hosemen would quench each recurring blaze.

Still the fire swept on eating its way from one room to another until it encompassed the entire plant and it was good daylight when the flames spent their fury and climbed, circled and writhed
about the parched walls in their mad chase for further food. Doomed from the start, destruction was now complete and the scene lost its weird charms for the hundreds of people whom the shrill alarm of the fire bell summoned
from their homes.

The buildings, all of them, are burned
beyond repair. The destruction is complete—the loss entire.

By a little strategy, the private office, projecting out towards Broadway, was saved from complete ruin and this happily preserves the papers, books and valuable records of the company, enabling them at least to keep track of their extensive business abroad. These constitute the trophies of a losing battle and are about all the company have left of their Fort Wayne plant.

THE LOSS AND INSURANCE.

The loss of the Jenney company is estimated all the way from $200,000 to $300,- 000, with an insurance of only $148,000,

all it could get, and some of that was placed but recently.

"Our loss," said Mr. P. A. Randall, one of the stockholders, "is vastly more than the insurance. Our invoice shows that.
When you take into consideration the expensive machinery we employ and the costly nature of our stock, not to mention our loss of business, you can form an idea of our total loss."

THE EMPLOYEES AND PAY ROLL.

The Jenney company employed almost 300 persons, 80 of whom are women. "Our pay roll," said Mr.
Charles B. Fitch, the assistant manager of the works, "amounted to from $12,- 000 to $15,000 a month. At present the pay roll amounted to more than that sum for our increased demands have just forced us to a thirteen hour schedule and the employees labored until 10 o'clock
each night."

On this topic Mr. P. A. Randall has some important figures. Said he, "The Jenney company was doing a business of two million dollars a year. We have orders enough on hand to run the works night and day for six months without touching another contract. In our shop last night we had $100,000 worth of finished work, and this is our severest loss. We have two hundred and fifty electric light plants to supply
outside of Fort Wayne. Our New York plant promises us a phenomenal income and only the other day Mr. McDonald contracted to light a new hotel at San Francisco. We employ in our Fort Wayne shops three hundred people, but when you take our agents and representatives on the road, and the fact that J. H. Bass and Louis Rastetter have gangs of men always on our work, you can safely say that four hundred people are dependent on the Jenney company for employment. But back of all this is a fortunate circumstance. Two weeks ago we only had an insurance of $25,- 000. In the past few days the insurance was increased to $148,000, and it helps us out now."

MR. McDONALD HEARD FROM.

This morning Mr. R. T. McDonald replied to the telegrams of last night, informing him of the fire. He left New York City to-day on the limited express and will arrive home to-morrow morning at 5 o'clock.

He also wired his representatives here to proceed at once to Plymouth and equip the shops there for operation and the company will make that their headquarters pending a solution of the Fort Wayne problem.

WILL THEY REBUILD?

The question is asked of everybody and none can answer it. Mr. McDonald has telegraphed machine men to meet him here this week and in the consultation then the matter will be decided.

Mr. P. A. Randall said: "I cannot say what we will do about rebuilding. Our engine and boiler are intact, having escaped the fire. Our property is here, the foundation of the works is as good as over and most of the brick can be used. These, of course, are inducements to rebuild, but I cannot say what will be done until Mr. McDonald arrives home. Judge Taylor, who is our counsel, says he does not think the shops
here will be rebuilt."

Back of all this lurks the influence of the Thompson-Houston company.

THE COMPANY AND ITS INSURERS.

The Jenney Electric Light company was organized in 1881, on what was known as the C. J. Jenney patents. The transactions that year were purely experimental. In 1882, they were unimportant, but in 1883, active operations began, and from that time dates the success of the company. Their quarters on Superior street grew too small for the business, and the company acquired what was known as the Clausen mower works at the junction of Broadway and the Fort Wayne road.
They added to the building from year to year, and even the past summer built a coal and coke room, and a carpenter and pattern department that they expected to occupy next week. This was their plant and it was not sufficient for the requirements of the company, which have assumed mammoth proportions.

The capital stock of the company is $500,000, divided between John H.
Bass, B. T. McDonald, E. G. Olds, P.
A. Randall and M. W. Shonors. Mr.
McDonald is general manager and to him, all concede, is due entirely, the power, prestige and greatness of the Fort Wayne Jenney Electric light company. The cloud that shadowed its patents were lifted some months ago by Judge Walter Q. Gresham in his decision against the Brush company. This gave the Jenney company unquestioned standing in the business world, and increased the value of the property beyond the hopes of the stockholders.

It led to a consolidation of the Fort Wayne Jenney company and the Thompson-Houston company, of Lynn, Mass.
The last named company, it is said, acquired a controlling interest in the Fort Wayne plant and it was estimated at the time of the deal, some five months ago, that a few of the local stockholders realized something like $100,000 each on their electric light investment. On this question of consolidation the officers of the company are silent, asserting in reply to all enquiries, that it is no one's affair but their own.

THE WATER SUPPLY FAILURE.

As is usual in such cases, the water supply failed several times during the fire this morning and this fact in a great measure crippled the firemen and rendered their battle hopeless. The fire, of course, was a great distance from the pumping house and the force could not be stronger with the present machinery.
No one is to blame for this state of affairs but the city. Its pumping apparatus is notoriously insufficient and this condition of things stares every citizen
in the face.

A GENERAL STRIKE.

Is threatened by the Switchmen of all the Trunk Lines if Their Grievances are Not Settled.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Information is received from a very authoritative source that the switchmen on all the trunk lines from Mississippi to New York have united in a demand upon the roads for an increase of pay and the settlement of other grievances. The officers have been given until Saturday to respond to the request of the switchmen and that if their requests are not granted or a compromise cannot be reached a general strike is threatened.

IT IS DENIED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The published statement to the effect that the switchmen on the trunk lines east of the Mississippi threaten to strike unless their wages are raised finds no confirmation in railroad offices here.

THE OHIO WHITE CAPS.

Their Brutality Causes a Victim to Become a Raving Maniac.

WINDHAM, Ohio, Nov. 23.—Adam Berkes, of Sardinia, who was fogged by masked men Thursday night upon a charge that he had been stealing, has become a raving maniac. "Attorneys from that vicinity indicate that the fogging
was done by a secretly organized body of men and it is next to impossible to convict any of them."

SWIFT BY FIRE.

The Business Portion of a Maryland
Town Destroyed.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 23.—A special from Pocomoke City, Md., says: "A fire broke out here, yesterday afternoon, in the drug store of D. O. J. Trust, in the business part of town, and from the first it was a hopeless case. The entire business portion of the town is gone except two stores. The estimated loss is $500,000, partially covered by insurance."

Leaves the G. A. R.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 23.—General
J. M. Palmer, the late democratic candidate for governor, has asked for and received an honorable discharge from the G. A. R. His withdrawal is based on an alleged violation of the constitution and the ritual in "perverting the order to political purposes."

Natural Gas.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—The breaking
of a natural gas main at Murrysville, Pa., this morning, caused a total suspension of work in the mills and factories on the south side of this city.
There is sufficient gas however to supply
private dwellings.

A License Bill.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Nov. 23.—The

POWDERLY WINS.

He is Re-elected Chief of the Knights of Labor by a Decisive Majority.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 23.—The election of officers took up the time to-day of the Knights of Labor Assembly. Daniel J.
Campbell, of Scranton, Pa., nominated
T. V. Powderly for re-election. Victor Drury, District Assembly No. 49, placed the name of Martin Hanley, of New Jersey, before the convention, and an ex-delegate, named Birch, from Ohio was also named. The result was Powderly 114; Hanley 27; Birch 1.

For general worthy foreman, Morris
L. Wheat, of Iowa, and Henry A. Beck-meyer, of New Jersey, were nominated.
The vote stood, Wheat 83; Beckmeyer
56. For candidates for general secretary and treasurer, three names were presented; that of Frederick Turner, of Philadelphia, the present treasurer;
Mr. Powderly took the floor and nominated John W. Hayes, of New Jersey,
the present secretary; Mrs. A. P.
Stevens, of Toledo, Ohio, was also named. Before the vote was taken a motion for a recess for dinner was carried.

SWITCHMEN'S STRIKE.

All the Men of the Indianapolis
Yards Go Out—Other Employees May Follow.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 23.—The threatened strike of the switchmen employed by the several railroad lines centering
here took place at a late hour last night, the Belt road employees joining the switchmen and thus stopping completely the handling of freight. Just before leaving the yards, the switchmen secured four engines, and attaching them to the loaded and empty cars in yards brought them out upon the main track and then left them quietly and went to their homes. The main track of the Belt line is therefore blocked with cars, as are also the several yards.

It was late last evening before the superintendents finally refused the demand for increased wages and reduction in hours of work, and the strike followed as soon as all the men could receive notice of the result. It is believed that the strike will spread to other employees, as the switchmen have the sympathy of all classes of men in the railroad service here, and are known to be paid less and to work a greater number of hours than their fellows in other cities.

About midnight they forced three engines to pull their fire and the fourth, James Maloney, who refused, was hit on the head with a hammer and kicked by a number of men.

GROWING SERIOUS.

The strike of the railroad switchmen is taking an ugly phase. Not a single switch engine in the city moved this morning. In the freight yard everything is confusion. This morning the trains were abandoned, half made up or not made up at all, except in the Monon and Lake Erie and Western yards. The men, however, declared that not an engine should be fired this morning.

In all the yards business is at a complete standstill. In several places the engineers and firemen or other employees tried to go on with the work, but the strikers interfered and succeeded fully prevented the departure of trains. Only one instance of positive violence was reported during the night.
The engineers and firemen are in close sympathy with the switchmen. In nearly every instance they have quit work, run their engines into their respective stalls, and drew fire when the switchmen requested it.

TWO ENGINES MEET!

And a Bad Wreck Follows, in Which
an Engineer and Brakeman Meet Death.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 23.—Two freight trains on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road collided at Hammondville this morning. Both engines and a number of loaded cars were demolished. One engineer, named Whitacre, had his leg crushed. The engineer on the other train, named Dolphin, and brakeman, named Slaven, are missing, and are supposed to be in the wreck.

LATER

Engineer T. Dolphin, of Wellsville, Ohio, and Brakeman Slaven, of Ravenna, Ohio, were caught in the wreck and killed. Conductor, George Reges and Engineer C. R. Whitacre were seriously injured, but not fatally. The accident was caused by the crew of the extra disobeying orders. The loss is heavy.

A YOUTHFUL FORGER.

Is Arrested at London, England,
Whether He Had Fled With His Sweetheart and Stolen Money.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 23.—The arrest yesterday in London, England, of Charles Tinkler, the youthful bank forger, was made through information given by himself in a letter to Wm. Hopkins of this city, one of his companions. It told the address of his tailor in London.
Through the request of Gov. Foraker, to Secretary Bayard, the American minister in London, was asked to secure Tinkler's arrest and it was done. Tinkler is not yet twenty-one years of age.
He was collector for the Bodman tobacco house and September last forged three checks of $5,000 each, presented them at the bank and obtained the money and left saying he was going to follow book-making at the races.
The forgery was not discovered until the checks were returned about Nov. 1. A young German girl, named Meier, went with Tinkler. It is said that a sister of hers died of grief a few days ago and Tinkler's mother is insane from grief
over the downfall of her son.

Martyrs to Headache

Seek relief in vain, until they begin to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Then they regret the years of suffering they might have escaped had they tried this remedy earlier. The trouble was constitutional not local; and, until Ayer's Sarsaparilla did its effective work as an Alterative and Blood Purifier, they were compelled to suffer.

The wife of Samuel Page, 21 Austin st., Lowell, Mass., was, for a long time, subject to severe headaches, the result of stomach and liver disorders. A perfect cure has been effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frank Roberts, 727 Washington st., Boston, says that the remedy has cured his terrible headache, and until he took Ayer's Sarsaparilla, never found any medicine that would give

Permanent Relief.

"Every Spring, for years," writes Lizzie W. Neave, 202 Fifth st., Brooklyn, N. Y., "I have had intolerable headaches. I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla last March, and have not had a headache since that time."

"I suffered from headache, indigestion, and debility, and was hardly able to drag myself about the house," writes Mrs. M. M. Lewis, of A. St. Lowell, Mass. "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has worked a marvelous change in my case. I now feel strong and well as ever."

Jonas Garrison, Esq., of Lykens, Pa., writes: "For years I have suffered dreadfully, every Spring, from headache, caused by impurities of the blood and biliousness. It seemed for days and weeks that my head would split open. Nothing relieved me till I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has cured me completely."

When Mrs. Geneva Belanger, of 23 Bridge st., Springfield, Mass., began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, she had suffered for some years from a serious affection of the kidneys. Every Spring, also, she was afflicted with headache, loss of appetite, and indigestion. A friend persuaded her to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which benefited her wonderfully. Her health is now perfect. Martyrs to headache should try Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

FRIDAY, NOV. 23, 1888.

The emperor of Austria is infatuated with the American game of draw poker.

HON. FRD. DOUGLASS addressed the American Woman's Suffrage convention last night. The convention has been in session at Cincinnati this week.

It is announced that it is not probable that Mr. Blaine will, through his friends, oppose favorable action on the part of the senate with regard to the appointment of Perry Belmont to be minister to Spain, when it comes up for confirmation.

A large number of increased pensions have been granted lately to Northern Indians—about 1,000 in the last ten days. Now, that the election is over, this activity in the pension office cannot be charged by the republicans as an electioneering effort.

One of the letters received by General Harrison the other day was from a man in Ohio. He wanted a postoffice and his request was that it be either in Maine or Massachusetts wherever it suited the General best, "so that it pays from $400 to $1,000 a year."

THERE have been more candidates named so far for the position of government printer than of any other place the new administration will have at its disposal. Among the latest named are Congressman Gallinger, of New Hampshire; W. R. Holloway, of Indiana, and Mr. Clarkson, of Iowa. Gallinger and Clarkson have also been mentioned in connection with cabinet positions.

Mr. E. W. HALFORD, the new private secretary of President-elect Harrison, will enjoy a great responsibility and a salary of $3,250 per year. In the executive department under him will be one assistant at $2,250 per year, two clerks at $2,000 each, two clerks at $1,800 each, two clerks at $1,600 each, two clerks at $1,400 each, one clerk at $1,200, a steward at $1,800, an usher at $1,400, nine ushers, doorkeepers, and messengers at $1,200 each, a watchman at $800, and a fireman at $600. He will be at the head of a force of twenty-four men, having directly to do with the chief of his bureau.

The eastern roads running into Chicago are still kicking about the Car Service association for the reason that it is likely to interfere with the grain trade of Chicago. Shippers have heretofore been allowed the privilege of leaving their cars on the track until the grain was sold. There would be no complaint now but for the fact that Peoria and other junction points which do not charge demurrage are securing an undue proportion of the business which ought to come to Chicago. The grain shipments of the eastern roads have fallen off materially since the roads began to charge demurrage, and there has been a corresponding increase in the consignments to Peoria. The Chicago grain receivers are, for the reasons stated, anxious to have the car service agreement abolished or at least so much of it as pertains to grain shipments.

The Fort Wayne Judge Will Get Nothing From Gen. Harrison.

The Indianapolis Sentinel says:

"There is one aspirant for a big office under Harrison who will get left," said a well-known republican to a Sentinel reporter yesterday.

"Who is that one man?" asked the reporter.

"That man is Judge R. S. Taylor, of Fort Wayne. He was always a strong Harrison man, but anxious to be on the winning side he telegraphed to Chicago on Saturday preceding the nomination of Harrison that it was time to drop Harrison and take up Gresham. There are seven of these telegrams in the hands of a republican who will be near the throne. I tell you, Taylor's goose is cooked."

LOCAL ITEMS.

The Ligonier Banner says: "Miss Ada Heller, of Fort Wayne, is spending the week here, visiting her friend Miss Minnie Gerber."

Mr. N. H. Bloedsoe, the manager of the Singer Sewing Machine company, returned from Indianapolis last evening, and went to Kendallville and Auburn to-day.

August Becker, while loading a wagon in the Bloomingdale gravel pit Wednesday, met with a narrow escape from death. One of the banks of the gravel pit gave away, and falling upon him buried him beneath its mass of sand. His fellow workmen, attracted by his cries, rushed to his assistance at once and he was soon rescued, but not before he had suffered considerable injuries. He was taken to his home and will be laid up for several days.

The first term of School of Music conducted by Misses Anderson and Large closes November 20. The second term begins on Wednesday, November 21.

Condensed Telegrams.

The report that the gas wells at Bowling Green, O., are failing is denied by the dispatches.

The national executive committee of the anti-saloon republicans are in session in New York with closed doors discussing the future policy of the organization.

M. M. Miranda, a native of Mexico, living at the Cosmopolitan hotel, New York, and engaged extensively in the broken stone business in Rockland land county, New York, died suddenly yesterday of heart disease. He was fifty years of age.

Payson Miner, chief clerk for Matteson's medical book agency, was found dead on the parlor floor of his home in Buffalo, yesterday. His head was tightly bound in a gossamer and a string was drawn tightly about his throat. No reason is known for the suicide.

George S. Knight, the actor, is very ill with pneumonia, the affliction which caused the death of McCullough and Bartley Campbell. It is said he cannot live long.

Mr. Chas. MacDougal has purchased a handsome driving horse.

Mayor Muhler committed Andrew Jackson to jail for drunkenness this morning.

Jeff Meyers was run in last night for stealing soap and starch from Currier's delivery wagon on Spy Run avenue. He was held on charge of drunkenness.

A CURE FOR SLEEPS.

The Mahoning Railroad Election Expenses Paid Over.

This morning Mr. A. A. Purman, local attorney for New York, Mahoning & Western road, appeared before Auditor Neizer and paid over the $500 put up to guarantee the payment of the expenses of the election to vote aid to the road.

The money will go into the Wayne township treasury and the election has not cost us a cent.

The road and shops are coming here too.

Injured by an Explosion.

An explosion occurred at the Jemmy Electric Light works yesterday morning, by which two employees were quite severely injured. O. J. Lapp and Fred Kelker were employed in the brass moulding room pouring molten brass from a vessel, when it exploded and scattered the metal about the room.

Large portions of it were thrown upon Lapp and Kelker, and the former was badly injured about the face and eyes, while the latter suffered injuries to his legs and arms. Their clothing caught fire, and was extinguished by the workmen who came to their rescue.

Mr. Lapp lives at 102 Butler street, and Mr. Kelker on Lavina street. Lapp's injuries are the more severe of the two, and a doctor is in attendance at his bedside. Large particles of the metal entered his eyes, but it is thought he will not lose his sight.

The Golden Gate Special.

The Union and Central Pacific roads, and Pullman company, put on, December 5, a weekly train of Pullman Vestibule Cars to run between Council Bluffs and San Francisco. Steam heat, electric light, separate bath rooms for ladies and gentlemen, barber shop, observation and smoking rooms, and a female attendant for ladies and children make it "The finest train in the world."

Fare between Council Bluffs and San Francisco, including everything—Ticket, berth, and meals—will be $100.00.

Tried Chloroform.

DEPLACED, Nov. 23.—Edward Swihart a young man who recently arrived in this city from Van Wert, and was employed in Dicus' cooney shop, attempted suicide yesterday by taking chloroform. He was unconscious for five hours, before pronounced out of danger. No reason has been assigned as yet for his act.

A Dozen Want It.

BRYAN, Nov. 23.—At the present time there are a dozen applicants for the postoffice at this place. Boothman's friends each expect the plum, and he will be worried considerably before a choice is made, and more afterward.

"We have met the enemy and they are ours," said Commodore Perry, thus telling the story of the battle of Lake Erie. And it is also a fact that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is no sooner used than the cold is conquered and the cough disappears.

The Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad are putting up post along its lines indicating the townships and counties through which it passes.

One Fact.

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

FOR SALE.

House and lot. The house has six rooms all on one floor. Lot 30x150. The house is newly painted and remodeled and within ten minutes walk of the court house. Bonds for $140.00 per year. Will be sold cheap for cash. Address: J. R. L., Sentinel Office, or call at 185 Lafayette Street.

A POKER-PLAYERS GOOD LUCK.

Bad Hart, as he was called by his friends, used to be one of the boys when Birmingham, Ala., was called the Leadville of the South. Bad was always hard-up, and found it no easy matter to keep himself staked.

One night while in a card-room, dead broke, Hart was approached by a stranger, who said to him:

"There will be a fellow up here to-night with $300 or $400 in his pocket, and I am going to do my best to get the money. I want you to drop in to keep the game going. Here's $10 to start with, and I'll see that you are kept staked."

In a little while "the fellow with the $300 or $400" came in, and Hart at once made his acquaintance.

The second stranger said to Hart in an undertone:

"The fellow I'm going to play with has several hundred dollars which I am after, and I will keep you staked if you will play with us."

The three-handed game was soon under way, and the two strangers played for each other for all they were worth. Hart always went out when they both stayed in.

Each of the strangers, when they played against Hart, allowed him to win the pot without showing their hands. This thing kept up all night, Hart keeping his pile of money out of sight. Seven o'clock next morning both of the strangers were nearly broke and stopped playing. Hart had nearly $1,000 in his pockets. A long time afterwards he told the story.—Atlanta Journal.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla acts directly and promptly, purifying and enriching the blood, improving the appetite, strengthening the nerves, and invigorating the system. It is, in the truest sense, an alterative medicine. Every invalid should give it a trial.

HEARING AND OVERHEARING.

Smith—Pretty good thing I overheard to-day. I must tell it to you.

Jones—Let's see. You overheard it?

S.—Didn't I say so?

J.—You did. But I want to be sure.

If you simply heard it, I don't care to hear it, but if you overheard it—

S.—I overheard it.

J.—Then get away, my boy, and give us the whole thing. I expect it's something rich.—Boston Courier.

Mrs. Geo. DeWald and her daughters entertained the ladies of the L'Orphelin club in an exceedingly pleasant way at their home yesterday afternoon and last evening gave a reception in their honor. COL. R. S. ROBERTSON.

He Cannot Recover Damages From His Old Adversary, Green Smith.

The Indianapolis Journal says: The suit of Lieutenant Governor Robertson against Green Smith and the sureties upon his appeal bond for damages for the expenses incurred by him in litigation attending Smith's bulldozing methods in the last legislature, came up before Judge Taylor, yesterday, on a demurrer. In their answer to the complaint, Smith and his sureties held that Colonel Robertson could not recover, because the supreme court had decided that the proceedings in the circuit court, whereby Smith enjoined Robertson from presiding over the state senate, were null and void. Colonel Robertson demurred to the answer. The judge now overrules the demurrer, and holds the answer good. He maintains that, as the circuit court had no jurisdiction over Robertson, a bond from Smith accepted by the court was invalid, hence Colonel Robertson can not recover damages on the bond. What further steps in the case will be taken is not known.
